A DOUBLE LYNCHING.

Two Negroes in Cabarrus Hanged to One Tree.

Miss Emma Hartsell, a young lady of Cabarrus county, was brutally assaulted by negroes yesterday, and afterwards murdered. Last night Concord resounded with uproar, and two negroes were hanged from the same tree.

The first news of the tragedy was heard by Mr. Frank Pharr from the lips of a young negro, who was going to town to tell about it. Mr. Pharr suspected this negro and held him until officers arrived.

In the meantime the news had circulated rapidly and crowds of both town and country began gathering. The negro held by Mr. Pharr was named Joe Kiser, aged 24 years, of Cabarrus county. In a short time another negro named Tom Johnston, aged 20 years, of Lincoln county, had been arrested.

Sheriff Buchanan and deputy drove to No. 1 township, where the men were, and arrested them and brought them to town.

It was twenty minutes to 10 o'clock when the mob, unable any longer to restrain its fury, broke down the jail door. The sheriff and deputies were overpowered and the crowd rushed up the stairs toward the cell of the doomed men. The lock was broken, the door opened and they hauled forth. The crowd called to the sheriff to get a lamp, but only a lantern was to be had. By this uncertain, fitful light, the mob carried its victims out. The sheriff saw that resistance was useless, so he made no effort to frustrate their work of vengeance. The men were taken to a point beyond the 3-mile branch They were remarkably cool, considering that they knew they were going to a dreadful death. They protested their innocence all along the way. Rev. W. C. Alexander, pastor of the Presbyterian church, walked by their side, talking to them and trying to minister to them spiritually. When the place selected for the lynching was reached a halt was made. Mr. Alexander tried to silence the crowd, so he could pray for the doomed men. The crowd could not be quieted, so he prayed while the crowd continued its excited talk. The men were asked if they had a parting word to speak. They said they were not guilty, and that was all.

HUNG ON THE SAME TREE.

A tree was found on which were two limbs about three feet apart. Over these the ropes were thrown. The men were mounted on two boxes about two feet high. The noose was adjusted around each man's neck, the box removed and the bodies dropped. A few minutes after the drop 100 shots were fired at the dangling bodies, riddling them with bullets. The doctors who were present pronounced the men dead in thirteen minutes. Their bodies were left hanging. They will be removed sometime tomorrow.—Charlotte Observer.

Coming Marriage.

The following invitation has been issued:

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Truitt request your presence at the marriage of their daughser, Sallie,
to
Mr. R. Walter Williams,
Wednesday evening, June eighth.
Eighteen hundred and ninety-eight,
at eight-thirty o'clock.
Centenary M. E. Church, South,
Greensboro, North Carolina.

The Telegram in advance extends congratulations and wishes for these estimable young people a pleasant voyage; and as their connubial barque enters the harbor at the end of the journey may she be laden with the reward of lives well spent and the slanting rays of the evening sun cast beautiful golden tints around the close of the day.

What the Soldier Said.

Chairman Thompson and Auditor Ayer, of the Russell-Butler trading committee, are reported since vacating "Room 19, Park Hotel," as saying they have "nothing to say." Oh, say something, boys, if it is nothing more than what the soldier said when a big cannon he was firing exploded, throwing him some forty feet near where the Bishop-General Polk was standing.

The soldier, enveloped in sulphurous smoke, crawled around, caught the general by the legs, and looking up, said, with much feeling, "Ain't this hell?" The Bishop piously replied, "It smells like it." Say something; we will try to have some regard for your feelings.—Morning Post.

HOW SCHLEY CAUGHT HIM.

Worked a Sly Trick on The Dodging Don.

"I HAVE GOT THEM" HE SAID.

And Then Went to Breakfast—British Ship Captured and Sent to Key West—Warships Signalling.

On board Union Associated Press dispatch boat off Santiago Sunday, May 29—Commodore Schley is holding Admiral Cervera in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba. By a piece of brilliant maneuvering he persuaded the Spaniards that he had left Santiago and the southern coast of Cuba in disgust. The Dons readily took the bait and entered the harbor. This morning at six o'clock Schley approached with his squadron and plainly saw the Cristobal Colon, Infanta Maria Teresa and also two torpedo boats. He has reasons for believing that he has trapped the entire Spanish squadron. In this good piece of work Schley acted entirely on his own judgment, for the past six days ignoring the vrgaries of the strategy board. This morning he sat quietly on the triangle of the Brooklyn until the discovery of the Armada and then went to breakfast saying "I have got them and they will never get home."

The scout St. Paul arrived this morning and was at once sent to Mole St. Nicholas with despatches. While off Santiago she captured a coal ship which she sent to Key West. It is believed that the coal was intended for Cervera.

The little Santiago squadron is jubilant over the locating the Armada.

The temperature here is something terrigc, the mercury standing at 110 degrees in the shade. The heat in the steel turrets is something beyond imagination. The American ships here are the Brooklyn, Texas, Massachusetts, Iowa, Marblehead and Vixen.

KEY WEST END OF IT.

Key West, May 30—The papers of the British steamship Restormel captured off Santiago de Cuba by the cruiser St. Paul with a cargo of five thousand tons of coal for Cervera show that she was bound from Cardiff, Wales, to Porto Rico. She had evidently received information that it would be dangerous to attempt to enter Porto Rican ports and was seeking Cervera at Santiago when captured. An attempt was made by the crew to scuttle the ship. The prize crew placed aboard by the St. Paul was kept constantly at the pumps until her arrival here. When boarded at quarantine this morning she carried the American flag at her foremast, the British at her taffrail and another British flag at half-mast amidship.

WARSHIPS SIGNALLED,

Cape Haytien, May 30—American warships have just signalled to a mountain observatory. It supposed that they have despatches from Schley.

A Rare Opportunity.

Mr. Conrad says some are coming from Charlotte to avail themselves of the low rate to Washington. Surely the Greensboro people will not fail to appreciate this rare and splendid opportunity to visit Washington at so cheap a rate. The excursion gives all ample time to take in the many attractions and to see the beautiful scenery on the route.

Correspondent Arrested.

Key West, May 29—Among those arrested on suspicion in connection with the attempt to blow up the mortar battery was Paul Molin, correspondent of The Eclair, of Paris, who was caught making sketches of the fortifications. As soon as his identity was established he was released but he is very indignant over the arrest.

Sampson at Key West.

New York, May 29—A special dispatch from Key West says Admiral Sampson has arrived there and may remain during the preparations for the Cuban invasion. This, it is believed, will not occupy more than a few days at the most.

Admiral Sampson's fleet is between Havana and Key West, with all on board well.

Several High Pointers witnessed the surprise party given at Rufus King's residence in Archdale last Saturday night. It was given in honor of Miss Lena Blair, of Asheboro.

A Word to My Friends.

I have never failed to carry out as nearly as possible what we have promised in our bill of fare on excursions. I have put myself to special pains to secure this delightful all rail trip to Washington for the people of Greensboro over this most delightful route. We will spare no pains to make it pleasant and desirable to all who go. We have under our personal supervision a first-class refreshment department and everything will be supplied at reasonable prices. You may not again have this splendid opportunity especially to get so much time at so low a price in Washington. The philosophy of success in life is the seizure of opportunities.

S. F. Conrad.

Moving Forward.

If there is one thing we advocate above all others it is the establishment of manufactories at home, right here in Greensboro. We take great pride in our home enterprises and industries, and bespeak for them the hearty support and co-operation of all true and loyal citizens.

Another step in the right direction and one which we commend is the enterprise of Dr. J. T. Johnson, the eye specialist, in his equipment for making up glasses right here at home, without having to wait to order from Baltimore or New York.

A Dispatch From Dewey.

Washington, May 29—The Navy Department this afternoon made public the following dispatch:

Hong Kong, May 28, via Cavite, May 25—Secretary Navy, Washington: "No change in the situation of the blockade, it is effective. It is impossible for the people of Manila to buy provisions except rice. The captain of the Olympia (Gridley) condemned by medical survey, is ordered home. He leaves by the Occidental and Oriental steamship from Hong Kong, on the 28th. Commander Lamberton has been appointed commander of the Olympia.

[Signed] Dewey."

ON TO CUBA NOW THE CRY.

General Miles Leaves Washington For Tampa Tonight.

CHANGE IN ENGLAND'S POLICY.

Transport Takes on Provisions For Dewey at Hong Kong—St. Louis Sails—Deaths at Chickamauga.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, May 30—The receipt of positive information by the war department that Schley has Cervera shut up in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba has given a new impetus to the preparations for the invasion of Cuba and the other Spanish possessions and it is not believed that further delay is likely to occur. General Miles leaves tonight to join the army at Tampa, Florida. Troops are being prepared to start today. It is stated that the departure of troops for Cuba will not be postponed beyond Thursday of this week at the outside.

ST. LOUIS ORDERED TO SAIL.

New York, May 30—It is rumored here that the St. Louis which reported at the navy yard to have additional guns of heavier calibre placed was hurriedly ordered to sea this morning without waiting for the guns.

SAW THEM AT CURACAO.

New York, May 30—Captain Hodgson of the British steamship Laughter which has just arrived in port says that he saw the Cape Verde squadron at Curacao. The ships at that time were in a bad condition, being short of both coal and provisions.

DEATHS AT CHICKAMAUGA.

Chickamauga, May 30—Several deaths from pneumonia occurred today among the troops encamped at Camp Thomas.

RECIPROCITY WITH FRANCE.

Washington, 30—The French reciprocity agreement was signed today in the following tariff arrangements in favor of the United States: Manufactured and prepared pork and meats tariff reduced from 100 to 50 francs. Lard in two hundred pound lots duty reduced from forty to twenty-five francs. Table fruits, canned meats, dried and pressed fruit, wood paring, blocks, staves, hoops, apples, pears crushed, cut or dried, minimum french rate of duty will be reduced half a franc. On brandies and other spirits the duty will be $1.75 a gallon and 15 cents advalorem. This rate will be satisfactory. Still wines and vermuth will have a duty of 75 cents a gallon. No reduction is made on champagne.

AMMUNITION FOR RESERVES.

New York, May 30—The auxiliary cruiser Badger arrived at the Brooklyn navy yard this morning to take on ammunition. She is manned by the New Jersey naval reserves.

PRESIDENT'S QUIET DAY.

Washington, May 30—President McKinley spent a quiet day, receiving few callers. Numerous sight seers are here and the national airs may be heard throughout the city.

ST. LOUIS SAILS.

New York, May 30—The St. Louis sailed today at noon for Tompkinsville to await final instructions from Washington. Work on her was rushed, her new guns being placed aboard and coal and provisions being taken for a long voyage.

ENGLAND'S CHANGE OF POLICY.

Hong Kong, May 30—A great change in England's policy has taken place. Despite the neutrality proclamation provisions were allowed to be placed aboard Admiral Dewey's transport which sailed for Manila this evening.

The above despatch gives color to the following from the Washington correspondent of the London Telegraph:

"I have just learned from high authority in the state department that important preliminary steps toward an Anglo-American alliance have already been taken. How far these negotiations, if they can yet be called that have proceeded, it is not easy to ascertain, for neutrality, strict secrecy is maintained, but my information is that the preliminary suggestions have been made and that the subject of such an alliance is practically before the two governments in some shape.

"According to my authority the features of the proposed alliance now being considered are these: Great Britain is to recognize the Monroe doctrine, to attempt no increase of her territorial possessions in the Western Hemisphere, and to endorse the American construction of that doctrine. The United States is to build the Nicarauga Canal and Great Britain is to have use of it in time of war. The United States is to have all the territory taken from Spain in the present war, and Great Britain is to protect the United States in possession, if this should be threatened. The United States is to stand by England in her policy in China and the east, and all the British ports in the east are to be opened at the United States under the most favored nation clause.

"The main features of an arbitration treaty are to be incorporated. It has been provided that all matters in dispute not involving the Monroe doctrine or the Nicarauga canal are to be submitted to a non-partisan commission. The existing understanding bearing upon the relations between the two governments on the great lakes are to be abrogated and the United States are to be given the use of the Welland canal in case of war.

"The alliance is to be offensive and defensive. It proceeds on lines such as the foregoing. As a matter of course, all that has been done so far is purely tentative, but my information gives the above as the general outline suggested."

M'KINLEY ON MEMORIAL DAY.

Sends Regrets to Memorial Committee of Gettysburg.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, May 30—President McKinley today sent regrets to the Memorial committee of Gettysburg who had invited him to be present and make an address at the exercises. The president said that time only enhances the lasting value and demonstrates a new and true significance in those inspiring and patriotic observances. The descendants of those who contended on the patriotic field of Gettysburg are mustered here today and are willing to make any sacrifices for the honor of the nation.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES.

New York, May 30—Memorial day is being fittingly observed here. The weather is mild and pleasant. Unusual enthusiasm greeted the marcher on fifth avenue. The graves of the soldiers in the various cemeteries were decorated as usual.

SCHLEY'S REPORT RECEIVED.

Says He Has Seen the Squadron Himself.

Washington, May 30—The Navy Department has just received, at 12:30 o'clock this morning (Monday) a dispatch from Commodore Schley stating that the Spanish fleet is in the bay of Santiago de Cuba, and that he has seen and recognized the vessels.

Naval officials have been morally certain for several days that Cervera's squadron was in the harbor of Santiago. The official announcement from Commodore Schley was received by the officers on duty at the Department with intense satisfaction. Assurance is now doubly sure that the Spanish fleet is bottled up and that the cork is in the bottle. It is not believed that Admiral Cervera will attempt to escape from the predicament in which he finds himself, as such a course would surely result in the destruction of his vessels and the loss of many lives precious to Spain. The suggestion is made, however that the Spaniards may blow up his ships rather than have them fall into the hands of Schley, as they will if they remain in the harbor.

Has a Long Memory.

It was reported the other day that steps had already been taken to raise a monument at Raleigh, to Ensign Bagley, who was killed in the engagement off Cardenas. That was a case of prompt action, yet there was evidence the other day that North Carolina has a long memory for her sons who have fallen in war. On the 6th of May, at Oak Ridge, the students of the Oak Ridge Institute unveiled a granite cenotaph bearing a bronze tablet in memory of the bugler boy, Gillies, of "Light Horse Harry" Lee's revolutionary troops, who fell on February 12, 1781, in a skirmish with Tarleton's dragoons, near the Guilford Court House battle ground. It is thought to be the only monument ever erected to a boy of the revolutionary times. All the schools in the county were represented at the ceremony of unveiling.—Harper's Weekly, May 28.

Going to Danville.

The boys of the Greensboro orchestra are getting quite a reputation as musicians. For sometime they have been making music for the local dances. Their reputation has gone abroad and this week the manager signed a contract to play for the Danville german club on Thursday night.

RUSSELL ON THE JUDICIARY.

In the June number of the Arena Gov. Daniel L. Russell has a paper on "The Usurpation of the Federal Judiciary in the Interest of the Money Power." Some weeks since we noticed in these columns a contribution by Senator Butler to the same periodical. Mr. Butler's paper was a jumble of campaign vaporings; Governor Russell gives the facts and instances from which his conclusions are drawn. If not wholly dispassionate, it is the exposition of an interesting phase of contemporary litigation by a lawyer who puts his case clearly and relies upon evidence, not mere epse dixit, for its establishment; In his opening paragraph Governor Russell says: "The Constitution is illusively supposed to be the creation of the convention of 1787. After a hundred years of its existence and expansion the major part of it is the creation of progressive judicial construction." A view that no one thus far in the discussion has seen fit to assume. The writer continues: "First there were forty years of liberal and progressive interpretation, then thirty years of strict construction, then a reaction, and now a period of construction either expansive or restricted, according to the demands of concentrated wealth. The judicial policy of this day is to strike down the states and yet to narrow the delegated powers of the national legislature wherever necessary to barricade against the advancing hosts of populism." Barring the assumption that none but a populist opposes the radical decisions of Federal judges the writer has been fortunate in his method of putting the case. The last sentence will bear close scrutiny. The policy of the Federal judiciary is clearly put. Any student of current events will recall, without difficulty, decision after decision within the past two years the direct result of which has been the curtailment of the powers of the state and the enlargement of the prerogatives of the Federal judiciary. It is perhaps not putting it too strongly to say that these decisions have wrought more harm to state authority than the constitutional amendment denying to the state the power of withdrawal from the Union. The attempts of the states to control corporations have been rendered a complete fiasco by the unwarranted interference of Federal judges. The statute books of nearly every state are cumbered with anti-corporation legislation that is as dead as any decree of Artaxerxes. The well known income tax decision is an instance of how the court has "narrowed the delegated powers of the national legislature." The writer further points out that the only remedy is a re-organization of the courts—an expedient by no means new to history. The question is bound to be a burning one in future politics and Governor Russell presents one side of it clearly and forcibly.

If the talk about bottling up is not stopped the navy department will hear from the national W. C. T. U.

His Holiness is said to be taken with a renewed desire to mediate. If he be possessed of the wisdom with which he is accredited he will keep his hands out of the present business. Americans will do their own mediating. Mediation means compromise and with the rotten Spanish monarchy there can be no compromise. Spain must get out and she can do that without the the mediation of His Holiness or others.

The Chickamauga and Key West liars take an occasional rest but the imaginative gentlemen of St. Johns and Mole St. Nicholas hear the continuous roar of cannon and look upon an endless stream of torpedo boats, most of 'em with yellow funnels.

The smallness of the occasion that can draw a fire of congratulations from General Blanco has not been approached since the embarkation of Weyler and his typewriter.

Speaking of bottling up: is it not rather strange that the stopper should not know whether there is anything in the bottle?

And naval experts will have to wait for some other war to learn the results of "modern battleships in action."

TWO INTERESTING LETTERS.

The Reply of the Cuban Patriot to General Blanco.

So much has been said about the Cuban patriots as mere bush-whackers that the following letters should receive a careful perusal:

Havana, May 5th.

Gen. Maximo Gomez, Commander-in-Chief of the Revolutionary Army.

Sir: With the sincerity which has always characterized all my acts, I address myself to you not doubting for a moment that with your clear intelligence and noble feelings, which I as an honorable enemy frankly acknowledge, you will favorably consider this proposal. It cannot be concealed from you that the Cuban problem has radically changed. We Spaniards and Cubans find ourselves facing a foreign people of different race, of a natural tendency to absorb, and with the intention not only to deprive Spain of her flag over the Cuban soil but also to exterminate the Cuban people on account of their having Spanish blood, The blockade of the ports of this island has no other object. It is not only harmful to the Spaniards, but it also effects the Cubans, completing the work of exterminating them begun in the horrors of the civil strife.

The supreme moment has therefore arrived in which we shonld forget our past misunderstandings and in which united by the interest of our own defence, we Cubans and Spaniards must repel the invasion. Spain will not forget the noble aid of her children of Cuba and once the foreign foe is repulsed from this island she, like a fond mother, will open her arms to another new daughter of the nations of the new world, who speaks her language professes her religion and feels in her veins the flow of the noble Spanish blood.

General on account of these reasons I propose to effect an alliance of both armies in the city of Santa Clara. The Cubans will receive the arms of the Spanish army and with the cry of 'Viva Espana!' and 'Viva Cuba!' we will expel the invaders and free from a foreign yoke the descendants of the same people. I remain your obedient servant, Ramon Blanco.

Gen. Gomez's answer was as follows:

"Gen. Ramon Blanco, Commander-in Chief of the Spanish Army:

"Dear Sir: I wonder that you should write to me again abount terms of peace when you know that Cubans and Spaniards can never be at peace on the soil of Cuba. You Spaniards represent on this continent an old and discredited monarchy. We are fighting for an American principle, the principle of Boliver and Washington.

"You say that we belong to the same race, and invite me to fight against a foreign invader; but you are mistaken again. For me there are no differences of races and blood. I only believe in one race, mankind, and for met here are but good and bad nations, Spain having been until now a bad one and the United States performing at this time toward Cuba a duty of humanity and civilization. From the wild, tawny Indian to the refined, blond Englishman, a man for me is to be respected according to his honesty and feelings, no matter to what country or race he belongs, or what religion he professes. So are nations for me, and until now I have only reasons for admiring the United States.

"I have written to President McKinley and Gen. Miles thanking them for the American intervention in Cuba. Until now I do not see that danger of our extermination by the United States which you point out in your letter. If it is so, history will judge. For the present I have to repeat that it is too late for any understanding between my army and yours. Your obedient servant,

"Maximo Gomez."

Preparations for the Voyage.

Mare Island Navy Yard, Cal., May 29—The United States steamship Monandock has been painted the war color and the United States collier Brutus is now being similiarly treated. The Monterey will go to Honolulu under her own steam and then take a tow from the Brutus. Three towing hawsers of 12-inch manila, and 720 feet long, have been delivered to the navy yard.

Rough Riders Leave for Tampa.

San Antonio, Tex., May 29—The regiment of rough riders left for Tampa this evening and 100 cars were required to transport them. The officers expect to reach Tampa early Wednesday morning. All the soldiers are in good health and eager to get to the front.

So Tired! So Tired!

Chronic Dyspepsia!

For ten years I had been a severe sufferer from chronic dyspepsia, which was pronounced incurable. I was completely run down, and in the summer season was not able to do anything and spent a great part of the time lying down. I could not touch meat of any kind, or any solid food whatever, as I could not digest it at all and had to live on crackers and light diet. I was very nervous, would have severe nervous spells, and could not get any oatural sleep, I was so restless. I suffered all the time from chronic dysentery, which kept me weakened down. That was my condition when I determined as a last resort to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. I had tried so many treatments and so many patent medicines without benefit that I had no faith in anything and had almost made up my mind not to try another thing, when Mrs. Person came to my house last April and induced me to try her Remedy. I bought ½ dozen bottles. Felt no relief whatever until I was on the fourth bottle, when I knew I was getting better. I became stronger, got so I could sleep well and there was no necessity for me tc lie down in the day time. I took twenty-two bottles before I stopped. My digestion is now perfect, and I can eat meat, vegetables, and anything else I want, and as much as I want. When I commenced the Remedy I weighed 98 pounds, now I weigh 115 pounds. Dysentery perfectly cured, and it is all owing to Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. It is everything claimed for it.

A CHILD'S USE OF MONEY.

Various Answers Received From a Large Number of Public School Pupils.

Dr. George E. Dawson of the Bible Normal college has classified answers received from 1,807 pupils of the public schools of this city, given in response to the question, "If you had $5, all your own, what would you do with it?"

Of those who passed in answers 669 were boys and 688 were girls, their ages ranging from 5 to 16. The answers are grouped under nine general heads: 44 per cent would deposit the money in a bank, 18.8 per cent would buy clothing, 3.2 per cent would buy something to eat, 15.3 per cent would buy toys and other means of amusement, 2.1 per cent would buy jewelry and finery, nine-tenths of 1 per cent would buy firearms, 1.7 per cent would spend for travel, 14 per cent would spend for others and 6 per cent would buy books, etc. It is interesting to note the large per cent who express a disposition to save. Dr. Dawson attributes this largely to the suggestability of the children. The results in this respect resemble those obtained in other fields of experiment. While the children do not realize the full significance of saving, the idea has been engrafted upon their minds and is bound to have its influence. The fact that this idea of saving has been thus forcibly impressed on the minds of so many is very significant and gives us a hint of the immense influence of public instruction.

In noting the per cent of those who would buy clothing it should be remembered that many of the children were in urgent need of something better to wear. Those who voted for something to eat were mostly under 7 years of age. In the class who would prefer amusements the girls usually expressed a wish for dolls and doll carriages while the boys mostly desired pigeons, rabbits or other pets. In regard to travel, the figures show that as children grow older the desire to go out into the world increases rapidly, reaching its height at about the beginning of adolescence. The desire shown by the boys for firearms is an expression of the hunting instinct that awakens when they are 10 or 12. At that age boys like to get hold of books of hunting and adventure. The tendency to buy books increases steadily as the children grow older. This class numbers about twice as many girls as boys. The class which manifests a feeling of altruism also numbers more girls than boys, showing that the greater generosity of women is strikingly manifest even at an early age.—Springfield Republican.

ENGLISH OFFICE SEEKERS.

A Parliamentary Candidate Is Allowed a Certain Latitude of Independence.

Let us suppose that the Birmingham Liberal association, for instance, is anxious to secure a candidate to contest one of the parliamentary divisions of the city. The members of the committee, most of them solid business men, who are in politics "for their health," and who neither ask for nor desire any reward, meet to discuss the situation. If it happens that any local Liberal of prominence and good standing is available, an invitation is sent to him to stand for the constituency. If not, a conference is held with the central association in London, on whose books are the names of most of the aspiring Liberals in the country. The candidate arrives in Birmingham and issues his address to the electors. Here, again, one notices a contrast with the cast iron rigidity of the American system. A candidate for congress or a state governorship is supposed to have no private opinions whatever. He is put forward as the party's representative and has to swallow the party's programme, whether he likes or not. An English candidate is not called upon to sacrifice so much to his country's welfare. He is allowed a certain latitude of independence. Our Birmingham candidate, for instance, knows, of course, what are the main tenets of the Liberal faith, but he need not necessarily subscribe to all its articles. With the gregarious instinct of politicians, the odds are that he will not differ from them on any material point. But he may, and still be the party candidate. He makes his own little platform and runs on it to suit himself.—Chautauquan.

Every Good Business Man

Will first insure his property against loss by fire. He will then equip the building with such apparatus as may be called to his attention in order to reduce his rate of insurance and lessen the risk of loss by water damage.

The proper way to put out fires and to prevent loss is to equip the buildings with ee Cartland, of High Point, spen yesterday in the city with his parents.

Col. Wm. H. S. Burgwyn, of the second regiment, was in the city yesterday.

O. R. Cox, of Cedar Falls Manufacturing Company, was in the city today.

A. G. Brooks, of Ore Hill, is visiting his father, T. T. Brooks, on Pearson street.

Another lot of Jones' hams at Lindau's. Advertised if not satisfactory money refunded.

Richard Crawford returned last night from the Epworth League conference at Salisbury.

Rev. S. D. Stamey, of Guilford College, passed through today returning home from Salisbury.

Prof. C. F. Siler, of Sanford, returned home today after spending several days in the city.

Dr. Wm. H. Brooks returned yesterday from Raleigh. He will return to camp Dan Russell tomorrow.

A fishing party composed of a number of local sportsmen are down in Alamance trying their luck today.

The second regiment of Tennessee volunteers passed through yesterday morning going to Washington where they will go into camp.

Misses Mary Trotter and Nannie Lee Smith returned home today from the Sunday School Epworth League conference at Salisbury.

Dr. and Mrs. Dred Peacock will leave the last of the week for a northern trip and expect to spend about three weeks at Saratoga.

Miss Lucy Earnhardt, of Jonesboro, passed through yesterday returning home from High Point where she has been visiting her brother.

The members of Lodge No. 80, K. of P., are requested to meet in their castle hall at the regular meeting hour tonight. Work in second degree.

Miss Annie Leonard and Mrs. Thomas, of Winston, passed through this morning returning home from the Epworth League conference at Salisbury.

W. F. Trogdon, the well known traveling salesman, representing Geo. Miller & Son Co., Philadelphia, left for Savannah, Ga., and the south today.

The library of the Lindsay street school will be open from 9 to 10 o'clock daily to the white children of Greensboro public schools, beginning with the fourth grade.

It is claimed by those who have seen it that Sample Brown has some of the finest wheat ever seen in this county. It would seem that in addition to being a hustling merchant he is not slow as a farmer.

Now is the time to look closely after the sanitary condition of your premises. Don't allow vegetable matter to fester and decay in the sun. It is highly important that lime or some other disinfectant be used freely.

Not only in one or two sections of the city of Greensboro is there evidence of thrift and improvement. Go where you will and take a look from almost any point and you can see from one to a half dozen new buildings going up. We are on the up grade.

Saturday night officers Scott and Pearce captured Jule Davis, an escaped donvict and added his name to the list of jail birds until this morning when he was taken back to the roads. Davis escaped about a month ago.

Rev. Dr. L. W. Crawford preached to the Centenary congregation in Winston yesterday. Dr. Crawford never visits that church without having pleasant things to say of the excellent music under the leadership of Prof. D. T. Huyck.

Only one more day now before the chance is given to take in the excursion of the season, the trip to Washington City on June 1st. If you have never visited the capital city of the United States now is your opportunity to go at a small cost.

After the heat of the day go out this evening to Wharton & McAlister's auction sale of real estate. Carriages will leave the court house at 6 o'clock; a cool, shady suburban place will be offered and a vacant lot on Smith street. Sales will occur on the grounds. A large attendance is desired.

Capt. Percy Gray, of the Guilford Grays, is here for a few days. Like all the boys we have seen camp life seems to agree with him. He reports his company in good condition and rapidly becoming proficient in drill. The regiment has had no intimation as to the nature of the services that will be required of it.

Prof. J. M. Bandy spent Sunday here with his family and returned to the survey on the new road in Wake and Harnett counties. He tells us that work is progressing finely, that he has twenty miles surveyed and now well under profile. In fifteen days it will be ready for grading and the capital is at hand for the pushing of the same.

Davidson College Unroofed.

The wind storm that visited this city yesterday afternoon about 5:50 was particularly severe at Davidson. A 'phone message from Dr. H. L. Smith to Mr. P. M. Brown, last night, stated that the wind blew about 2,000 feet of tin roofing off the college. No other damage was done.—Charlotte Observer.

Refilled the Tank.

A colored excursion from Winston enroute to Danville passed here this morning at 9:45 o'clock. About three hundred were on board of whom about one-third landed and made a break for McCauley's bar. After taking water and a large number of recruits the train pulled out.

It Was Very Fine.

When a man does a thing for the pleasure and comfort of others it is always agreeable to him to have his efforts praised. Mr. J. H. West made a lot of ice cream Saturday night for Sunday and a number of those whose good fortune it was to be "in it" were so well pleased that they expressed themselves in notes of thanks and appreciation, which Mr. West may be pardoned for using as testimonials. Some of them appear in his advertising space today.

Saturday Night's Fire.

The alarm of fire Saturday night was caused by the explosion of a lamp in the bath room at A. B. Creech's on McGee street. The fire companies turned out promptly, but were not needed, as the flames were quick extinguished by turning on water from the yard hose. Damage slight.

Unexaggeration

Probably there is no temptation so illusory, so insistent and so perilous that can beset a business house, as the seeming advantage to be derived from exaggeration.

Extravagance of statement seems to be palatable. It is entertaining; it flatters, it captivates, but it is self-deceiving.

The quickest and most certain way in which we can point out its danger is to call your attention to the fact that exaggeration once begun, knows no limit. Where is it going to stop? Today the exaggerator must tell a bigger, stronger story than yesterday; tomorrow, a bigger, stronger one than today, and so it goes on.

Beside being untrue, and invalid, and conveying a wrong impression, it is weak, cowardly and mean to exaggerate; while its being utterly unnecessary and thoroughly disreputable, goes without saying.

Nearly everyday we go to the public with business assertions, grounded upon our character, watched by our reputation. It is absolutely impossible for one of those assertions to contain a particle of exaggeration. They have merchandise quality to vouch for them, and our quality to hold them to their pledges. Hence, if you have any occasion, at any time, to illustrate an argument that the principle and policy of sterling truth make the most successful business, you can point to us and point to our doings and sayings as proof.

We have been rushed the entire week with eager buyers. The same

In Behalf of the Company.

Camp Russell, Raleigh, N. C.
Editor Evening Telegram.

Sir—I desire to thank the kind people of Greensboro through the columns of your paper for their very substantial remembrance of their soldier boys in camp. The six large boxes of provisions and two boxes of papers and periodicals were duly received. Every member of the company participated in the good things they contained and join me in my hearty return of thanks to the donors. Very respectfully,

R. Percy Gray, Captain,
Co. D. 2nd Reg., N. C. V., U. S. A.

A dispatch from Key West to the London Standard says the Cuban insurgents looted the town Remedios on Saturday, carrying away all provisions stored there. The Cuban loss was four killed and three wounded; Spanish loss 32 killed and 63 wounded.

To Cure a Cold in One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Are You Going?

The trip to Washington is near at hand. The question now is are you going? Mr. Conrad is in town to look after details and will personally conduct the train from here. Ladies who place themselves in his care will be looked after and every comfort and convenience provided for their pleasure. First-class hotel accommodations are secured at low rates in Washington, and all who go may expect a most delightful trip.
